In January, look forward to a charming novel for all who adore books, libraries, and cozy mysteries; an uncommon love story in which a journalist investigates claims of a virgin birth; and a work of historical fiction that conjures the tumultuous atmosphere of Paris in the Roaring Twenties through the eyes of four fascinating narrators.

In April, you'll receive an elegant novel about a woman who appears to commune with the ghost of a famous musician, a romantic work of historical fiction based on a trailblazing landscape architect, and a twisty tale of a lonely teacher who follows a charismatic student to Sweden for a fateful Midsommar's Eve celebration.

In your July shipment, you'll find an emotional novel about a woman who joins the Resistance in World War II Paris, a literary treasure about Australian sisters who emigrate to England, and an uplifting charmer from 1931 about a British family's vacation.

In October, you'll want to snuggle up with a thoughtful mystery about three siblings coming to terms with a shocking trauma, an enchanting portrait of a small Irish village and the memorable characters who inhabit it, and a subtly funny exploration of friendship and aging.
